

May 2016: One female yew grows here, west of the church and near to the perimeter wall. Its girth is only 11' 4" at 1' but it has been larger. It is classified as veteran because of its condition rather than its age. Sections of the trunk are missing, revealing well developed internal growth.

A tombstone very close to the tree bears the names of people buried from 1815 onwards.

