

LANCASHIRE
Burnley, Towneley Park	There are a large number of old, not ancient, Yew trees in Towneley park. There are at least 15 on the main walkway through from the hall to the Golf Clubhouse. This is a municipal park, taken over from the old Towneley family in the early 1900's.
Denton	A 1793 engraving of a yew, location unknown
Rivington	Terraced gardens, now in the grounds of the Anderton Conference Centre on the banks of the Lower Rivington Reservoir. "Ancient yew trees" are described.
Woodwell	A yew grows in the rock above this well. Location is south of Silverdale, given as SD4674 approx.

GREATER MANCHESTER
Cheadle	St Mary's: In 1686 a young yew tree planted in the east side of the churchyard near the road. In 1857 a yew was planted at the NW entrance.

MERSEYSIDE
Runcorn	Big Wood, situated on the NE edge of Runcorn, is designated a site of Importance for Nature Conservation. "There are a number of significant yew trees sited along ditch lines. These will need to be mapped and monitored in the years to come." For more information go to www.wt-woods.org.uk/bigwoodcheshire/description.asp