

The first record of a church here is 1291 Pope Nicholas' Taxatio as 'Ecclesia de Maesmenuis'.

2005: The yew, growing on the N side of the church, presents as a twisted half shell with small internal stems. It is difficult to know how much larger this tree was than its present girth of 14' 4" measured close to the ground.

Photos Geoff Garlick (undated)