

2007: A tall fine shaped female yew SE of the church. It looks solid but a vertical gash reveals it to be hollowing with internal growth. A small portion of the original trunk around which new material has formed can also be seen. At about 6' up it divides into 2 growth areas. Girth at 3' (above the higher ground) was 13' 11".

