2012 Peter Norton: The male yew grows close to the northeast corner of the church. It consists of three main leaders from a 4' high bole. Its crown appears to have been reduced. Girths were 15' 11" at about 1' (taken at the highest ground level on the west side of the tree) and 16' 3' at 2', although this has been exaggerated by branch growth.