

SHROPSHIRE

Alberbury	“...sombre verdure of some yew trees.” Nooks and Corners of Shropshire (1899) by H.Thornhill Timmins
Ash and Yew	Churchyard yew with known planting date of 1855.
Barrow	Tom Moody, buried Nov 19 th 1796 – his wish was to be buried under the yew trees there.
Bridgnorth	Grand old contorted yews on the sandstone cliffs of Apley Terrace, near Bridgnorth, were described in 1874 (SO7256897965). This is a private estate.
Chirbury	“...could yonder old yew-tree but speak.” Nooks and Corners of Shropshire (1899) by H.Thornhill Timmins
Church Stretton	A shapely churchyard yew. Others in nearby Rectory Wood, described as “Quite old yews by pool.”
Middlehope	Footpath yews
Morville	Somewhere near Morville is a Yew Tree Dingle
Willey Park	A yew with a known planting date of 1817. Described in Arboretum and Fruticetum (1838) as “21 ft. high, the diameter of the trunk 1ft., the head 18ft” (SJ667002). This is a private estate.