

June 2014: This extraordinary yew grows on the north side of the church. It is a hollow half shell which includes prominent, albeit small, internal growth. Foliage, what little there was of it, looked healthy enough. Girth including a piece of stump was 9' at 2'.

