

2002: A fine looking healthy male tree growing west of the church, consisting of five main branches. A girth of 16' 7" was recorded between the ground and 3".

2015: One of the five branches was removed between 2002 and 2015 and some cabling added. A girth of 17' 1" was recorded between the ground and 3". The sloping nature of the bole and spreading roots make this a difficult tree on which to record accurate measurements. Photos are from 2015.

© Tim Hills - Ancient Yew Group - 2019