

2011 Peter Norton: A sparsely foliated female yew with a much reduced crown grows west of the church. Much of the outer shell is missing and five internal stems are seen. One of these now grows at least 12" away from the remaining bole. Excluding this stem a girth of 8' 4" at 1' 6" was recorded.

